PRACTICAL NEXT STEPS FOR EVERY STAGE OF GIVING

PATHWAY TO GENEROSITY

Beginner's Giving: Testing God's Faithfulness

Definition: Beginner's giving is the first step where you test giving a portion of your resources to see how God responds.

Scriptural Basis: This is rooted in the book of Malachi, where God invites people to test Him in their giving.

Next Step: Start by giving something, even a small amount, and trust God to show up in your finances. It's a way to experiment with generosity.

Priority Giving: Putting God First

Definition: Priority giving means giving your "first and best" to God before anything else.

Application: Many people set up automated giving so that their generosity doesn't fluctuate with attendance or circumstances.

Next Step: Make generosity a priority in your budget and set up consistent giving, ensuring that God receives the first portion of your income.

Percentage Giving: Growing in Generosity

Definition: Percentage giving involves intentionally increasing the percentage of income you give as a reflection of your growing faith and pursuit of Jesus.

Goal: A common benchmark in Scripture is 10%, but the New Testament encourages sacrificial giving beyond that. The idea is that 10% can become the floor of giving, not the ceiling.

Next Step: Commit to regularly increasing the percentage of your income that you give, starting from where you are, and work towards the biblical principle of tithing (10%).

Sacrificial Giving: Giving Above and Beyond

Definition: At this level, giving goes beyond percentages and focuses on sacrificial giving, where generosity reflects deep trust in God, often requiring giving more than is comfortable.

Mindset: This step is not just about fulfilling obligations but truly living out sacrificial generosity, where giving is a spiritual discipline.

Next Step: Stretch yourself to give in ways that are sacrificial and involve personal cost, recognizing the joy and trust this kind of giving brings.

Partnership Giving: Leaving a Legacy

Definition: Partnership givers go above and beyond for the sake of future generations, contributing significantly to ministries and initiatives that will outlast them.

Impact: This stage is about leaving a legacy of generosity that will bless people they may never meet, both now and in eternity.

Next Step: Invest in legacy projects, such as church building campaigns, long-term mission efforts, or initiatives that focus on the Next Generation, ensuring that your giving impacts many lives for years to come.
